SINGLE RELEASE SHEET January 2012

The brand new single from Scotty Newlands is "Don't Wanna Get Over You." This is a perfect AC/Pop track for radio to kick off 2012.

Scotty's earlier releases include a CD in 2009 entitled New Roads, which featured nine original songs and showcased his unique vocal and writing talents.

In 2010 he was chosen to record a tribute song and video for the Canadian Forces and Emergency Service Personnel entitled "These Are Our Heroes". Both the single and video received favourable airplay, especially during Remembrance Day ceremonies across the country.

It should be noted that Scotty is an active member of the Canadian Forces and currently serves as a Public Affairs representative for the Army Reserve soldiers in the Greater Toronto Area. Due to his past service for the country and his amazing vocal talents, Scotty has been granted the esteemed honour of performing the Canadian and American national anthems at a number of high profile sporting events, including Toronto Maple Leafs and Raptors games at the Air Canada Centre, Toronto Blue Jays and Argonaut games at the Rogers Centre, as well as at the 2009 Bridgestone NHL Winter Classic held at Wrigley Field in Chicago IL.

If this wasn't enough for any one person to handle, Scotty is also an accomplished professional actor who has played a number of leading roles in theatre, film, television and commercials.

"Don't Wanna Get Over You" was produced by JUNO Award winning producer Greg Kavanagh at Kavasound in Toronto and is four parts CanCon.
